ingly by putting our letters into the Mails for which they are marked. The letters of our Bultimere Correspondent are always post-paid and plainly and conspicuously endorsed "Edistors' Mail"; but with one or two exceptions we have uniformly received them by the regular mail, which is not opened until morning. The letters are then worthless. We insist on a speedy reform.

The Schooner Mogul.—The mate of this schooner, William F. Green, was brought up yesterday, in the E.S. District Coart, and examined before Judge Betts. Lyman Fronch and James D. Fox, two of the segmen, and James Cantine, the cook, were brought up as witnesses, and gave a general statement of the facts attending the schooner's degree of the cook, were brought up as witnesses, and gave a general statement of the facts attending the schooner's degree of the captain's ordering only light sail set, even is the best weather. There had been a gale three or four days before the lenk was discovered: it leaked 24 hours, and so fast that they could not keep her free; the cook, however, thought she might have run fifty miles further—and they were only 20 or 30 miles from shore. The captain in however, ordered the boats got ready, and on the steward's attempting to go into the cabin, forbade him, saying that everything there was in an uproar. They saw a vessel passing near them some after they left the schooner: the captain in objected the going on board, saying that it might be the quickest passage to New York for the others, but not for him.
